What is Connexxus? Connexxus is the new University of California Travel Program. It provides value, flexibility, and convenience for UC business travelers. Connexxus features favorable negotiated rates for air travel, hotel accommodations and car rentals.

How does Connexxus work? A convenient secure Connexxus Web portal provides options ranging from full agent assistance to online booking:

The portal includes guidance for choosing the best option for your travel situation.

Why use Connexxus? Excellent pricing all in one Connexxus portal using UC discounts for airfares, hotels, and car rentals. For example:

- Rental car rates reduced by up to 15% from prior agreements, coverage included Hertz, Enterprise, National
- Hotel discounts of 12% to 25% off best available rates
  Marriott, Starwood, Wyndham
- Air travel discounts (in negotiation)
  United, Southwest, American, and associated international carriers

Connexxus is adaptable to every UC location and makes it easy to comply with policy.

When will Connexxus be implemented? By the end of 2008, all UC employees will have full access to the Connexxus program. UC San Diego and UC Riverside are the first to launch Connexxus in April.

How will I use Connexxus in the meantime? While anticipating Connexxus launch, UC travelers will be able to take advantage of travel discounts through an interim process to be announced soon.

How did Connexxus come about? The UC Travel Management Council, representing all campuses, medical centers and national laboratories, developed Connexxus in collaboration with UC Strategic Sourcing. The Council gathered input from UC travelers using a survey and campus focus groups. The new central Travel Management Office at the UC Office of the President provides guidance and coordination for Connexxus, one of the largest managed travel programs.
